Seniors Enter New World;
Baccalaureate on Sunday

Climax of senior activities will be Commencement Day, Monday, May 31. The forty-fifth annual ceremony will be held in the stadium at 5 p. m. In case of rain, the exercises will be moved to the Fieldhouse.

Approximately 225 students will receive degrees from the University's five colleges. Masters' degrees will be awarded to 23 students, the rest will be given bachelor's degrees.

Dr. Felix Morley, journalist, educator and political scientist, will address seniors on "The Fault, Dear Brutus." Correspondent for Barron's Weekly, Morley is past president of Haverford College and a Pulitzer Prize Winner. He is also former editor of the Washington Post and claims fame as the brother of Christopher Morley.

About 25 Air Force ROTC cadets will receive their commissions at commencement ceremonies. The commissioning, as part of the exercises, began last year.

The faculty, Board of Regents and seniors will parade from the main building, across the football field to the west stadium. Graduates will be seated in a section on the track, not in the stadium as in previous years.

The University band will play the processional, the recessional and the Star Spangled Banner.

University officials invite the public to attend Commencement Day exercises.

Graduating seniors will gather Sunday afternoon for their last group activity before Commencement. The forty-fifth annual Baccalaureate Convocation will be held at 5 p. m. in the University stadium.

Robed seniors, faculty members and the Board of Regent will march in procession from the Administrative building into the stadium.

The University band, under the direction of Robert Gaskill, and the University choir, under the direction of Richard Brewer, will perform.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Edward W. Stimson, pastor of Dundas Presbyterian Church. Dr. Stimson will talk on "Our Other Vocation." The Rev. Ernest E. Smith, pastor of First Baptist Church, will give the invocation and benediction.

Parents, relatives and friends of graduating students are invited to participate in the Baccalaureate exercises.

Emery Plans
Convo Series

Summer school students will have an opportunity to attend eight convocations during this year's summer session.

The "Theater of Mr. Poe," a dramatic narrative in two acts, will be presented June 18. Paul Shyre will stage and direct the production.

The Offutt Air Force Base Band will be "on stage" at OU July 16.

A music and dance trio consisting of Daniel Nagrin, dancer; Ronald Gould, percussionist, and David Shaper, pianist are on the program for July 23.

1954 Seniors Review
At Today's Convocation

Seniors will don their caps and gowns today to enter four days of graduation activities. The graduates will step out of college life Monday at commencement ceremonies.

Seniors' first nod toward graduation today, Senior Day. The Class of 1954 will wear caps and gowns in all classes.

History and presentation of the class gift will be featured at a formal 11 a. m. convocation on the front steps of the University.

Seniors will meet for the procession at 10:45 a. m. in the first floor corridor. The procession will move through the east doors and end on the steps.

Class President Duane Post will be master of ceremonies. Alumni President Harold Poff will speak on "The Role of the Alumni" and invites seniors to join the Association. Senior class sponsors Paul Beck and Lt. Col. Allen H. Wood will announce senior awards and give the charge to the class, respectively. Other awards will be presented by Deans Jay B. MacGregor and Mary Padou Young.

Following the convocation, seniors will walk to the west campus to dedicate the traditional tree. Bob Rasmussen, Senior Day chairman will lead the ceremony.

President and Mrs. Milo Ball will honor graduating seniors at a noon luncheon in the auditorium today.

Caps and gowns must be returned by 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The Senior Class Dinner-Dance will be held Thursday at the Birchwood Club.

All students, parents, relatives and friends of graduating seniors may attend Senior Day, Baccalaureate and Commencement convocations.

Students Sign Fulbright Petition

A petition to protest cutting the Fulbright scholarship fund is posted in the first floor hall. One week from today it will be sent to the Senate Appropriations Committee.

A letter of explanation will be with the petition and all students and faculty members are urged by Lew Radcliffe, student in charge of the petition to sign.

The scholarship is a part of the

"Cutting the funds will greatly reduce the number of foreign students who will be able to study in the U. S.," said Radcliffe.

"We feel all college students realize there are better ways to increase interracial understanding than through defense armament races."

Senator Fulbright's bill has passed the House of Representatives and is on its way to the Senate.

Officers Term
Cadet Review
One of 'Best'

Inspecting officers during the cadet Air Force ROTC military inspection Monday and Tuesday called the event "the best we've seen." The inspecting team had visited 18 other units all over the U. S. before coming to Omaha. They said the morale of the cadets, from freshmen to seniors, was excellent.

The federal inspection team included Col. H. E. Hurt, Lt. Col. E. Bodine and Maj. J. E. Deatherage. All are from Air Force ROTC Headquarters, Montgomery, Ala.

Thirty awards were presented during parade ceremonies. Among them: American Legion medal, Jerry Norene; Veterans of Foreign Wars medal, James Du Bois; Reserve Officers Association medal, Duane Post; President's medal, Melvin Rousek and Air Force Association medal, Frank Pazlar.

Others awarded were Larry Peters, Professor of Air Science medal; Robert E. Ernst, Air Force ROTC medal; John Vana, Distinguished Cadet medal and Merlyn Pratt, Convair Cadet award.

Twenty-six of 44 June graduating ROTC cadets will receive Air Force commissions. Lt. Col. Allen H. Wood reported this week.

All cadets receiving 2nd Lt. commissions have qualified for pilot or observer training or are service veterans.

The other 18 students will receive certificates of completion.

Regents Post Architect's Dream

The University Board of Regents met yesterday at the Fontenelle Hotel to discuss campus expansion plans.

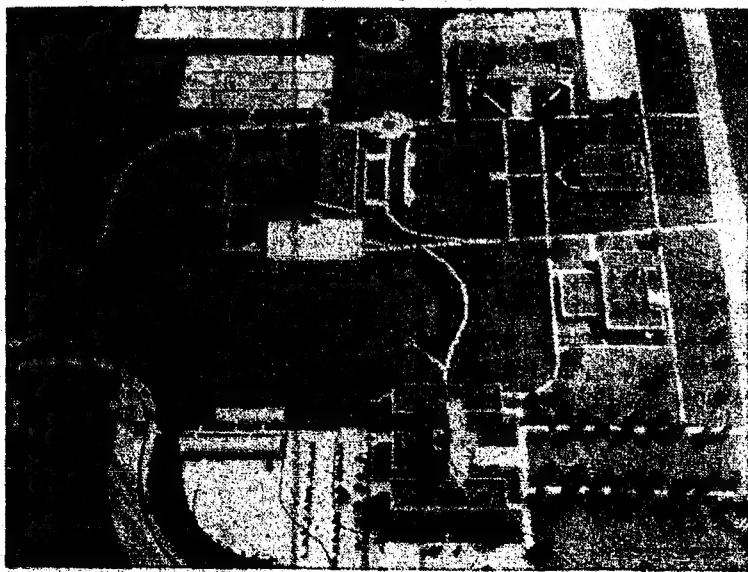

A model of the campus as it will look when all buildings are completed is on display at the hotel. The replica will be at OU May 28.

The Building and Grounds committee reported on progress of the library and recommended that the Board of Regents approve library specifications.

The committee also recommended that the finance secretary pay John Latenser and Sons, Architects, $3,750 for preliminary library plans. Money for this payment is to come from the 1949 gift of $7,500 by the Eugene C. Eppley Foundation.

Friday, 100 representatives from 24 contracting companies will meet in the cafeteria to present construction bids to the university.

"Any students interested in the bidding are welcome to attend."

OU dream on display — architect designs miniature of future campus.

Store Offers
$500 Awards

All students who have a knack for salesmanship are eligible to compete for the Arthur Brandeis retailing scholarship.

The scholarship is offered to assist competent young men and women graduate from Omaha University and to aid next year's seniors to enter a retailing career at Brandeis store.

Three $500 scholarships are given every year.

Special scholarship forms should be filled out and entries will be judged by the scholarship committee for academic scholarship, character, leadership, good fellowship and activity in curricular and extra-curricular activities.

May 31 is the final application date for 1954-55. Winners will be announced in June.

Mr. Editor Writes '30' To Omaha U Career

A businessman walked into the Gateway office one day and asked to see the editor. A reporter looked up from a typewriter and nodded toward the corner, "That's his office, but he's never there."

The editor with a vacant office is Bob Rasmussen, a veteran of four years on the student paper. He explains that he got "so used to working in the crowded and dishevelled newsroom that I can't get used to a whole office by myself."

A better reason for the uninhabited office is that Rasmussen believes his staff does a better job and learns more about newspaper work if he can sit down and help them as they write. As the person with the most experience in writing, editing and making up the paper, Ras is considered the final authority on any controversy over style, headline count or layout preference.

A third reason for the empty editor's chair follows the rule that the newsman goes to the news, rather than the news to the newsman. When a story breaks, Ras picks up paper and pencil and heads toward the source of the news if no reporter is available.

Staff members agree that "The Chief's" outstanding characteristic is his frankness in handling people and situations. More than one visitor in the office has been bewildered by his calm statement that they "should read the Gateway more often and find out what's going on" or "the next time you want publicity, buy an ad."

Feminine staffers are used to being told that their slips are showing or that they should never wear gray since it is unbecoming to them. Latecomers to staff meetings are not reprimanded, but before the day is over, Ras usually asks coolly, "What did you do with your alarm clock?"

His other activities include the presidency of the Press Club, membership in The Club and Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary.

After a two-year hitch which he "owes to Uncle Sam for four years of college," Ras wants a "good job with high pay." The field will be journalism, but the phase is undecided . . . "just so I can write a little, boss a little and play a little."

Summer Courses at Home, Abroad

Omaha University workshops and special courses this summer will range from reading improvement to a travel and study tour to Europe.

The Air Age Workshop and Institute June 30-July 2 will headline local activity with an address by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Special summer classes beginning June 7 include audio-visual, physical education, reading improvement and secondary education.

The summer physical education program offers one session from June 7-July 10, with classes in camp leadership, playgrounds and recreation, plays and games and advanced physical education activities. The second phys-ed session starts July 12.

The secondary education workshop will provide an opportunity for teachers to study current topics and trends in secondary education with specialists in the field.

Two travel-study tours are being offered this summer: one to Europe, and one to Mexico. Open for undergraduate credit, adult registration will be permitted.

OU Trackmen Drop Wayne Bill Barnes' Lainson Shine

By Larry Means

Omaha University's track squad placed first in 12 of 16 events last Monday to win handily over Walyne State Teachers College, 82-54.

Bernie Lainson and Bill Barnes were individual standouts for Omaha. Lainson won the 880 yard run and the mile. He was also on the winning mile relay quartette and placed hird in the discus.

Barnes scored a triple victory. He won the 100 yard dash running against the wind in :10.2. Five minutes later he returned to cop the 120 yard high hurdles; and later in the evening, he won the 220 yard lows.

Double winner for Wayne was weight man Jim Temple. He won the shot put and the discus. Wayne also placed strong in the 220 yard dash and the mile run.

This was the last regularly scheduled meet for the Indians. A select few will go to the NAIA regional meet-at Hastings early in June.

Letter winners this season for OU are Barnes, Bob Barnes, Mel

Decker, Roger Dunbier, Reggie Fellows, LaRue Garrett, Dale Geise, Bob Gerdeman and Myron Heise. Others are Lainson, Wayne Larsen, Dick May, Larry Means, Marv Olson, Bob Palmquist, Joe Paddu and Emil Radik.

Coach Ernie Gorr said he has "been more than satisfied with the way the boys performed. It is only through the efforts of all the team that our record is as good as it is."

ROTC Grabs Softball Title on 1-0 Victory

ROTC squeezed by Pi K A Wednesday afternoon to win the Intramural Softball League.

The championship team shut out all competition and ended the year with a four win, no loss record. Sig Ep finished second with three victories and one defeat. Theta Chi and Phi Beta Chi tied for third rung with one win and one loss apiece. Pi K A wound up in fifth place, and ISA landed in the cellar.

Netmen End Play With Drake Today

OU tennis squad plays host today to Drake University in the last match of the season on the Omaha U courts. This will be the season's first meeting for the two teams. OU won in 1953, 6-1.

The Omaha University netmen made it two straight over the Nebraska Cornhuskers last Thursday with a 5-4 victory at Dewey Park. Senior Don Blocker led the OU assault with a 6-0, 6-2, victory over Roy Colson and then teamed with Carl Carlson to beat Colson and Jim Campbell, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Other OU victories in the singles, Carlson defeated Jim Campbell, 6-1, 7-5 and Freshman, Don Fisher beat Norman Vietzer, 6-1, 6-3. Bill Feddersen, Howard Larimore and Dick Shapland lost singles matches for the Indians.

In the doubles play, the Indians won two of three matches. One win was registered by Carlson and Blocker and the second was scored by Feddersen and Shapland as they turned back William Roy and Steve Sutton, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

Indians End Season Against Jays Tonight

By Don Digillo

Omaha University's baseball team will end the 1954 baseball season against the Creighton Bluejays at 8 tonight at Muny Stadium.

This will be the second meeting between the rival schools this year. The Indians won the first game 6-5 on Bill Steck's triple in the ninth inning.

Golfers Win Last Seven Matches

The OU golf team finished the 1954 season Monday with a sweep of a triangular meet with Creighton University and Doane College on the Happy Hollow fairways. The Indians beat Creighton, 13½-1½ and Doane, 12-0. Linksmen finished the season with a 12 win, six loss record, winning their last seven.

Fred Shinrock was the "man of the hour" May 13 as the Indian golf squad downed Nebraska University 8-7 in Lincoln. Shinrock scored an eight-foot putt on the eighteenth green to win his match. His win clinched the Indian victory.

The Bluejays are just having a mediocre season; but when they meet the OU team, all records and favorites are thrown out the window, and both teams give it everything they have.

Teams Split Last Year

Last season Omaha jumped to an early lead over the Creighton team, and it appeared as if the Indians were going to breeze by with a victory. But the Bluejays quickly silenced the Omaha bats, and the Indians had to fight off a late rally to take the contest 10-7.

In the second meeting of the two schools last year Creighton upset the Omaha nine 7 to 3. Ace lefthander Fritz Stanek was at his best, and the Bluejays finally got a baseball victory over the Omaha team.

Close Games

But as in the other games that the two teams have played, neither of them gave up, no matter how bad the situation looked. In the last inning of that second game Omaha tried vainly to rally. They had two men on when the game ended, and it wouldn't have surprised anyone, especially Creighton, if the Indians would have come back to win the game...

Stanek To Start

This last game shouldn't be any different than the rest. The Bluejays will probably pitch Stanek, and OU will probably send Chris Salberg to the hill. The Indians have had a fine baseball year, and OU fans should turn out in full force for this final game of the season. Creighton will be tough, but it's my prediction that the Indians will end the season in a winning way.

Indian Nine Gets Split With Drake

The Omaha University baseball squad traveled to Des Moines Friday and Saturday and split a two-game series with the Drake Bulldogs.

John Stella was credited with the Indian victory Friday afternoon in a 10-inning, 5-4 ball game.

Stella came to Chris Salberg's rescue in the ninth inning with bases loaded and none out. He allowed the tying run before retiring to the side.

Stella came back in the tenth to protect the one run lead for his first varsity victory.

Helme Delivers

Fritz Buglewicz opened the Indian half of the tenth with a walk and was sacrificed to second by Bill Steck. Cal Helme then singled Steck home.

Starting pitcher Chris Salberg walked nine batters and struck out seven. Stella struck out two and didn't issue a walk.

The following afternoon the Bulldogs handed the Indians a 10-4 setback to wind up the series. Three Pitchers Used

In a vain attempt to stop the Iowans, Coach Virgil Yelkin sent three hurlers against the Bulldogs: Schaetzle, Stella and Bob Ladd took their turns on the hill for Omaha.

The game was won on a five-run first inning.

OUWI To Meet

Present and newly elected OUWI officers and club representatives will meet at 6:30 p. m. June 2 in Elmwood Park. The picnic-business meeting will outline next year's activities.

Rained Out

The OU - Morningside baseball game scheduled for Tuesday was postponed because of rain. OU Athletic Director, Harvey Vogler, said the game will not be re-scheduled at a later date this season. Indians will close their season tonight at Muny Stadium against Creighton.

Honorary Groups Tap OU Leaders

Waokiya and Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership societies, tapped 16 new members at the All-School Sing Wednesday evening.

Coeds tapped for Waokiya are Susan Bivin, Sharon Erdkamp, Louan Focht, Peggy Moneymaker, Joanne Rentschler, Jean Schmidt, Ruth Washinek and Joan Willey.

Omicron Delta Kappa tapped seven new members and a new faculty advisor. Faculty advisor is Dean Jay B. MacGregor who will sponsor the group two years. At the end of the two-year period, a new ODK advisor will be tapped by the group.

Newly tapped members of ODK are Bill Beindorff, Don Chase, Paul Cherling, John Courtright, Roger Dunbar, John Haury and Ted Romberg.

Presidents Lead Tapping

Joan Haven, president of Waokiya and Jim Klein, president of ODK, were in charge of the tapping ceremonies which took place on the University's front steps.

Both leadership groups plan banquets to honor new members. The Waokiya banquet will be Friday at 6 p. m. in the Faculty Clubroom. Initiation of members will precede the banquet.

The ODK banquet will also be in the Faculty Clubroom. The informal banquet is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Saturday, following the initiation of new members.

Chi Omega sorority and Theta Chi fraternity took top honors in the sing competition. Zeta Tau Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha took runner-up positions. Third place ribbons went to Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Angels Elect New Officers

Operations officer is Darlene Buckingham; Pat Norman is adjutant recorder. Carol Roberts and Jo Olsen are comptroller and public information officer respectively. Betty Ellsworth is in charge of publicity.

Schmidt Heads Group

Christian Fellowship elected officers for the coming year May 8 at Immanuel Deaconess Institute. Dennis Schmidt is new president.

Ralph Ewert is vice-president; Jean Myklebust, secretary and Jeanice Johnson, treasurer.

Dean of Women Crowns Schropp Joe College XI

Bob Schropp, Pi Kappa Alpha, became Joe College XI Friday night at the Joe College Dance.

Chuck French accepted the hat for Bob, who was unable to attend.

The dance, held annually on the university front steps, was co-sponsored by Feathers, OU chap-

Music was by tape recording via an amplifying system.

Darlene Buckingham was Mistress of Ceremonies and Merrie Crozier was over-all chairman.

Phi Beta Chi 'Coral Dance' Tonight at Carter Lake Club

Senior Dance Set for May 27

Graduating seniors will attend the annual senior dinner dance at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, at the Birchwood club.

Each senior may bring one guest to the dance, although the dinner is limited to graduating seniors.

Eddy Haddad's orchestra will play for the informal dance which will start at 9 p. m.

Jack Frost is over-all chairman. Assisting him are Mardell Squire, program chairman and Maggie Claeson, decorations chairman.

The program will be "informal, light and gay," said Duane Post, senior class president.

Guests will be President and Mrs. Milo Bail, Dean and Mrs. Jay B. MacGregor, Dean and Mrs. Donald Pflasterer and Dean Mary Padou Young.

A cornerstone for the new library will be the senior class gift to the university.

Of remaining senior fees, the initial $50 will go to the alumni fund. Excess money will be donated to the Student Union fund.

Phi Beta Chi, new social fraternity, is sponsoring an all-Greek informal dance from 9 p. m. to midnight tonight at the Carter Lake Club.

Decorations for the "Coral Dance" will be a take-off of an undersea cavern, with the color "blue" predominating. Jack Swanson and his 14-piece band will play for the last Greek dance of the year.

Bill Albright is over-all chairman for the dance. Sam George was in charge of decorating the Bookstore window. Doug Hadden, Bill Ballenger, Bob Dworak and Rod Rosse also worked on decorations. Albright will MC the intermission ceremonies.

President and Mrs. Milo Bail, Dean and Mrs. Jay B. MacGregor, Dean and Mrs. Donald Pflasterer and Dean Mary Padou Young will be honored guests. Deans of the various colleges will also be present.

Sponsors of Phi Beta Chi will chaperone the dance. They are Mrs. Guenter Schmaltz, Lt. Col. and Mrs. John E. Asp, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bereuffy and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ellis.

National Group Grows

New initiates are Fred Homan, Helen Kinner, Elaine Jones, Shirley Johnson, Connie Hunt, Jackie Pedersen and Dorothy Friedman.

FTA Elects Howell Prexy

Future Teachers of America elected officers May 13. Next year's officers are: Helen Howell, president; Joan Palladino, vice-president; Phyllis Dworak, treasurer; Shirley Johnson, secretary and Joy Miller, historian.

At the business meeting the group discussed setting up a memorial to Miss Frances Wood, late associate professor in the College of Education.

It was suggested that her picture be framed for the gallery of education professors to be hung in the office of Dr. F. H. Gorman, dean of the College of Education.

University Players Choose Mitchell

Others are Pat Lemmers, Lyle Micklin, Mitchell, Miss Norman, Bob Osborn, Joan Palladino, Miss Pedersen, Brad Pence and Keith Williams.

Soc Club Elects T

New officers of the Sociology Club were announced at the May 4 meeting. They are Lois Tate, president, Steve Schwid, vice-president and Judy Rogers, secretary-treasurer.

The club also admitted 11 new members. They include Bennett Alberts, Phyllis Dworak, Helen Gulstad, Lyle Haines, Corinne Houser, Charles Murnan, Judy Rogers, Amy Russell, Steve Schwid, Nancy Weymiller and Mary Wooley.

Ellsworth Heads Club
